

I was there in June 2016. The requirement at that time was to earn 2,000 points during June in order to win this token. After June, the requirement was increased to 3,000 points. A slot player earns 1 point for each $5 run through a regular machine and 1 point for each $8 on video poker. Do the math and it would have taken $10,000 to $24,000 run through in order to get one of these.

I was trying to get one, but gave up after I was in the hole $700 and had only 400 points to show for it. At that burn rate, it would have cost me $3,500 in losses to get one. With that in mind (and it seems that hardly anyone wants to part with their hard earned token), I think $300 might be a fair price.
