

Collector Series Silver Coins

Each coin is sculpted in amazing detail by acclaimed artists. A series of four models and molds are made for each coin. The models require refinement and precision sculpting so that the finished die will capture all the detail and emotion of the original. Each coin is struck from .999 fine silver. The silver is subjected to temperatures in excess of 2,800°F. to assure purity. The silver is formed into 200, strips and precision blanks are punched out, to assure accurate weight and size. Finally, the blanks are struck by a special press with 160 tons of pressure and then polished to a brilliant shine. Your coin has been minted using the same process that the United States Mint uses to make our country's currency and medallions.

Collector Series Silver Coins

Collector Series Coins®

Copyright 1992, All Rights Reserved

MADE IN THE USA

Fine Silver

Mining Company

Certificate of Authenticity

No -C62592b-

...In the late 1800s and early 1900s, miners came and went. Some were rewarded with great success while others experienced great tragedy. One famous miner who experienced both was "Wild" Bob Womack. In 1878, Wild Bob found a small piece of silver and spent the next ten years searching for its source. In 1889, he secured a grubstake and ten months later staked a claim on Beacon Hill, the El Paso Load. Due to the high degree of skepticism in the area, Womack's discovery was not taken seriously. Two years later, Womack sold the El Paso Load for a total of $800. This was all the money that Womack would ever receive, and later died in poverty. The El Paso Load went on to vend over $5,000,000. ...The Pony Express was founded by John Butterfield in 1858. Riders for the Pony Express were expected to ride day and night to reach their destinations on time. It took a special type of cowboy to be an express rider and the most famous of these riders was Clifford "Swift" Clavenhold. Swift held the record for the fastest time between Missouri and Colorado. Stories are told of a sleeping rider who once stormed through the middle of town. Later, Swift admitted that there was one time when he fell asleep in Kansas and woke up at the Colorado line, still on his horse. Coincidentally, Swift has no memory of that record-setting ride.

This is to Certify That this .999 Silver Coin Now Belongs To:

X _____

On This _____ Day of _____ 19____.

Arthur D. Nixon
Secretary

Allan Childers, SS-356